

July 2021

Family Medicine Newsletter

Graduation questionnaire faculty report

The AFMC is proud to present the 2020 AFMC Graduation Questionnaire (AFMC GQ) Faculty Report. Family medicine received very high ratings for clinical experiences – please see the full report for details. Great work, everyone!

Read more

Congratulations

We would like to acknowledge the nominations for the 2021 Awards of Excellence, including Kim Le, Education Manager, and the family medicine program administrators team. These staff members were nominated for their commitment and dedication to working through these unprecedented times during the pandemic, providing support to learners and faculty.

Welcome

Please extend a warm welcome to new staff member Stephanie Plaitin. Stephanie took on the role of coordinator, administrative services as of June 21.

New publications and grants

Alex Singer is a co-PI on a newly funded project: Government of Canada funds four new projects to encourage COVID-19 vaccination in Canada.

Read more

Alex Singer is a co-author of the article, “The revenge of unintended consequences of anaphylaxis-risk overdiagnosis: How far we’ve come and how far we have to go.”

Read more

Alex Singer is a co-author of the article, “COVID-19 vaccine adverse events.”

Read more

Alex Singer is co-author of the article, “Primary care provider-reported prevalence of vaccine and polyethylene-glycol allergy in Canada.”

Read more

Survey invitations

Beta-lactam allergies

Are you a practicing general pediatrician, family doctor, nurse practitioner or advanced practice registered nurse in Canada or USA? Please fill out this 15-minute survey from Dr. Tiffany Wong at BC Children’s Hospital about management of patients with beta-lactam allergies.

Start the survey

HPV vaccine

Primary care providers are encouraged to participate in a survey about the greatest barriers you see for adults trying to access the HPV vaccine after graduating out of the elementary school program.

Survey consent form | Start the survey