

June 2022

Family Medicine Newsletter

50th Anniversary

The Department of Family Medicine is approaching its 50th anniversary. It was in 1973 that the first resident entered the Family Medicine residency training program. The planning committee has selected May 26th, 2023 to celebrate the occasion with a Gala hosted at the Metropolitan Entertainment Centre (MET).

In line with our strategic priorities we want to use this opportunity to celebrate and promote our members and our legacy. We are planning to do so by reflecting and celebrating how far we have come, while establishing new awards that will celebrate and promote our learners, faculty, and staff on an ongoing basis.

We need YOUR help!

In order to promote and maximize our reach within our community we will launch a social media platform. We are looking for the most creative hashtags to promote and track activity surrounding the department. Please submit your ideas to DFM@Umanitoba.ca subject #Anniversary for a chance to win 1 of 3 prizes.

Publications

Sanchez-Ramirez D, Singer A, Kosowan L, Katz A, Polimeni C. Increasing likelihood of prescribing recommended lipid management: Primary care providers' participation in cardiology CME. NAPCRG 2022 Practice-Based Research Network. June 2, 2022. Bethesda, Maryland, USA.

Sanchez-Ramirez D, Singer A, Kosowan L. Management of cough in patients with idiopathic interstitial lung diseases in primary care. NAPCRG 2022 Practice-Based Research Network. June 2, 2022. Bethesda, Maryland, USA.

Singer A, Kosowan L, Zulkernine F, Zafari H, Muthumani D, Nesca M. Validation of a pan-Canadian definition for PTSD using structured and unstructured primary care electronic medical record data. NAPCRG 2022 Practice-Based Research Network Conference. June 2, 2022. Bethesda, Maryland, USA.

Read more

